

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Relatives and Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lowenstein Entered in Honor of Their Fiftieth Marriage Anniversary.

For weeks, society has been astir over an event which promised to be one of the most brilliant ever given in our city, the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lowenstein, who are old and very highly respected residents of our city. In response to invitations issued, a large number of relatives and a limited number of friends, assembled at Mistletoe parlors on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 28th, to witness the marriage ceremony of this prominent and happy couple.

There is something very beautiful in connection with a golden wedding, that is absent from an ordinary marriage. To see a couple who have traveled hand in hand together down life's pathway for 50 years, facing alike, the pleasures and difficulties that must have arisen on the way, to see them after they have traveled so far even happier, if not quite so fresh looking as when the journey was begun, is indeed a very beautiful sight.

Rabbi Harry Meyer of Kansas City, the officiating minister, stood near the center of the parlor, which had been decorated and beautified for the occasion in mistletoe and holly and hundreds of Marsechalnel roses that in their fragrance and beauty, defied all other roses.

The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by the Zeller Orchestra of Kansas City and took their places, the bride and groom standing under the large and beautiful wedding bell, made of the same choice roses. A bank of palms furnished a background for the scene in front of which stood the Rabbi.

First came the two beautiful little flower girls, Misses Dora Lesem and Mary Berg, aged four and six years, grand children of the bride and groom. They were exquisitely dressed in yellow silk gowns carrying baskets of Marsechalnel roses.

Master Sidney Berg came next bearing the ring on a golden yellow pillow.

Then came the bride on the arm of the groom, who made indeed a very handsome couple. The bride's dress was an elegant golden brown duchess satin entraine, with trimmings of applique, a beautiful little Parisian bouquet escorted with dismond earrings and brooch, a fortune in themselves, the present of the groom.

The groom was in full dress with a beautiful diamond button a present of the bride.

They were followed by Miss Gussie Schweitzer a handsome young lady, wearing an exquisite gown of yellow broad silk entraine, with trimmings of lace and pearl, made decollete, who gracefully carried a shower bouquet of fifty marsechalnel rose buds.

The party took their places in front of the Rabbi, who in a very impressive ceremony pronounced them man and wife; during which time the orchestra softly played, "Oh Promise Me."

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lowenstein received the congratulations of their friends and relatives to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding chorus, after which the elegant banquet was served in the dancing salon, where a long table had been set with cover for one hundred. The following is the menu:

MENU.

Blue Points on Half Shell.
Olives. Celery.
Dill Pickles. Radishes.
Smoked Beef Tongue.
Boneless Turkey, Cranberry Jelly.
Potato Salad. Salmon Salad.
Chicken Mayonnaise.
Braised Breast of Golden Plover.
Baked young duck. Lobster salad.
Chicken a la Reine.
Orange fritters. Marachino sauce.
June Peas. Boston Chips.
Roman Punch.
Champagne Jelly. Golden ice cream.
Layer cakes. Lady fingers. Angel food.
Macaroons. Salted Almonds.
Bon Bons.
Fruit. Assorted nuts. Layer tigs.
French Rolls. Cheese Straws.
Mum's Extra Dry. Heideheimer.
Butterbeer.
Golden Wedding Cake.
Coffee. Cigars.

The banquet lasted some two hours, after which dancing was indulged in, which to such excellent music, was a delight.

To each guest was given the handsome menu card and a spray of the golden yellow roses, as a souvenir of the charming event.

Some very elegant imported costumes were worn upon this occasion, which was one of the most elegant affairs ever given in Central Missouri.

Among the many elegant presents received, some were simply gorgeous, among which were a magnificent parlor set of twelve pieces, in solid gold leaf, and nothing half so beautiful has ever been seen in our little city.

There were several ornamental chairs to this beautiful set, one window chair and one corner chair, an art desk, a beautiful divan, one curio cabinet containing some rare works of art, and one music cabinet, a solid brass clock with 12 very fine rhinestones surrounding its face and a pedestal five feet high in some imported ware, on which stood an immense jardiner of green and bronze with bunches of peepers, which held a fine old palm with wide spreading branches.

We regret that lack of space will not permit us to give a list of all the presents.

Among the guests who attended from a distance were Mrs. R. Swimmer, of Louisiana, a sister of the bride, who is over 90 years of age, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Swimmer, Mr. and Mrs. B. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Arnheim, Mrs. B. Holzmark, Mrs. Richard Goldsmith, all of K. C.

Miller-Jeter.

A pretty wedding took place at the Methodist church at Malta Bend on Tuesday, Dec. 26th, 1899 at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Miller of Oklahoma and Miss Jeter of Malta Bend, being the high contracting parties. Rev. Mr. Houston of Malta Bend, in a few well chosen words performed the ceremony that made them man and wife.

The attendants, who all wore white organdie gowns, were as follows: Misses Rose Mertens of Miami, Jean Leitch of St. Louis and Miss Mabel Carpenter. Mr. Sherman Houston of Malta Bend acted as best man.

The bride, a pretty brunette, wore a beautiful gown of white organdie, her long graceful veil being held in place by a single spray of orange blossoms, carried a shower bouquet of brides roses.

The groom wore full dress suit of conventional black.

After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride in Malta Bend. Dr. and Mrs. Miller left on the late train for Oklahoma, which will be their home in the future, carrying with them the good wishes of a large circle of friends, in which the REPUBLICAN wishes to be included.

Holiday Rates

Via Chicago & Alton.
Higginsville and return .90
Independence and return $2.25
Kansas City and return $2.55

All other stations within distance of 200 miles one and one third fare round trip.

Dates of sale Dec. 23, 24, 25, 30, 31 and Jan. 1st. Final limit Jan. 2nd, 1900.

W. A. Leatty, Agent.

Guliger-Taylor.

The wedding of Mr. W. M. Guliger of Tallequah, Indian Territory and Miss Nellie Taylor, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Taylor of this city, on Wednesday afternoon Dec. 27, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the bride on South Odell, was quite a surprise to the many friends of the fair young bride, who were not looking for it so soon.

The bride and groom entered the south parlor to the sweet strains of Lohengrin's wedding chorus, played by Miss Fannie Taylor, and took their places near the center of the room, where they were met by Rev. J. W. Howell, who performed the very beautiful and impressive ceremony which made the happy couple man and wife, in the presence of a number of friends, who had been invited for the occasion. A fairer or more beautiful bride never took upon herself the marriage vows.

Miss Nellie is a great social favorite, being one of the loveliest characters we have ever met, possessing many noble traits of character that have greatly endeared her to Marshall people and no young lady has ever left our city, who will be more missed than will she, by people of all ages.

The bride was married in a handsome brown broad-cloth, tailor made gown, that in fit and finish was the work of an artist. A beautiful imported hat was worn, that was most becoming. A large bunch of bride's roses made up this elegant costume.

The groom is highly connected, being a member of one of the oldest and most aristocratic families of the South, is a highly polished, elegant gentleman, a cousin of Grover Cleveland, and is a prominent and wealthy cattle king of Tallequah, Indian Territory.

After congratulations were over, Mr. and Mrs. Guliger took the 5:30 train for a two months trip, which will include points of interest on the Pacific coast, going first to Salt Lake City, where they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, nee Miss Adair, who married one week ago and the two couples will take the trip together. From Salt Lake City, they go to California, Portland and Old Mexico and will visit relatives in Alabama. They will attend the Mardi Gras at New Orleans and return by way of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Guliger have not decided where they will reside, it will be either in Dallas, Texas or Kansas City. The REPUBLICAN